Luis Terrazas, Jr., Father of Thirteen Children, Held for Ransom.

(Copyright, 1914, by W. R. Collier.)

THE CHILDREN'S BENEFIT.

By way of contrast, it is pleasing to note that Congress, in the spirit of knocking out some petty graft affecting its own members, sees it to go over the head of a committee and lay out money in directions where great good will be accomplished. What members will lose in the mileage grab will be more than made up in expenditures for the children of the land. The House today ratified the action taken in Committee of the Whole in the matter of providing an appropriation of $115,000 for the Children's Bureau, instead of the $15,000 which the Appropriations Committee recommended.

THE CHILDREN'S BENEFIT.

In a few words Miss Julia C. Lathrop, head of the bureau, explained the meaning of this appropriation tonight. She said: "The staff of the Children's Bureau is immensely gratified over the action of the House in providing the appropriation of $115,000 asked for to carry on its work. This action, above all else, however, impresses us with our responsibility to make good in the work of the coming year. Most of the appropriation will be used to carry on the propaganda for the prevention of infant mortality, especially along the line of field work in localities throughout the country."

DOCTORS' LUCID DIAGNOSIS.

Ex-Chicago Banker Found to Have Been Just Sane Enough to Know He Was Insane.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

CHICAGO, April 17.—A tumor at the base of the brain of Dr. William T. Kirby, former private banker, was found today by physicians conducting an autopsy on Kirby, who died here yesterday. Kirby before his death requested that his brain be examined to prove his contention that he was insane.

Kirby's bank closed here in November, 1913, owing depositors $30,000. A few days later he was found in a private sanatorium. In trying to defend himself he declared that he had lost the money in a wire tapping scandal, while he was not in his right mind.

Physicians who conducted the autopsy today declare he was just sane enough to know that he was insane.

Life's Seamy Side.

TRIES TO KILL MAYOR MITCHELL.

Bullet Goes Through Jaw of Corporation Counsel.

Cries of "Lynch Him" Are Heard in Park Square.

Would-be Assassin Said to Be Man Out of Work.

NEW YORK, April 17.—In an attempt to take the life of Mayor John Purroy Mitchell today, Michael P. Mahoney, an apparently irresponsible man, who later said he was a blacksmith out of work, fired into a group of three men seated in the Mayor's automobile, which stood at the east side of City Hall Park.

The bullet from his revolver entered the jaw of Corporation Counsel Frank L. Polk, who was sitting next to the Mayor in the tannery of the automobile. With blood spurting from his mouth, Polk was taken into the City Hall and afterwards to the New York Hospital, where it was said that the wound would not prove fatal.

Mahoney shot at the Mayor, he asserted, in the course of a disappointed statement extracted from him tonight, because he felt aggrieved at the city executive's extravagant expenditures, and because he was in need of being turned back from the door of the Mayor's room in the City Hall on two occasions this week when he came to apply for a municipal job.

Mahoney fired only one shot at the Mayor and his party. Before he could fire a second he was overcome by Detective George Neary, who of the capacity of chauffeur wrenched the revolver out of Mahoney's hand. The Mayor sat in the middle of the back seat with Mr. Polk on his right and George V. Mulvaney, the Mayor's former law partner, on his left. The bullet passed so close to Mayor Mitchell that the left side of his face was scorched. Standing within a few feet of Mahoney was Police Commissioner Arthur H. Woods, who was waiting for the chauffeur to get into the car.

Within thirty seconds after the shooting the City Hall plaza and Park Row were flooded with a surging crowd and police reserves were called out.

As soon as he had seen that Mr. Polk received medical attention, Mayor Mitchell went to the police station in the basement of the City Hall, where Mahoney had been taken, and questioned him.

"Why did you shoot at me?" he asked Mahoney. The Mayor seemed as calm as if nothing had happened. The prisoner's answer was incoherent and to the effect that he had nothing to say. Cowering before his questioners, he seemed hardly to know what he had done. He was slim and gaunt, wore a ragged fringe of white beard and was clad in an ill-fitting suit.

While the police were trying to learn his name Mr. Polk was removed to the hospital. By this time the plaza was packed with a jostling crowd, some of whom cried: "Where's the assassin? Lynch him!"

It was believed at the time that the corporation counsel had lost most of his lower teeth, but a later report stated that only one tooth had been knocked out, and that unless blood poisoning set in the wound would not prove serious.

The prisoner was taken to police headquarters, where he was examined before Police Commissioner Woods, Dist. Atty. Whitman and others. As he was led out of the traffic police station into the ambulance that brought him to police headquarters the crowd lunged toward him, menacing and loud-voiced, but they were driven back.

BALK AT WATER.

Even Coxey's Mule in the "Army of Unemployed" Refuses to Touch the Fluid.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

LOUISVILLE, (O.), April 17.—The first act of insubordination in the "army of unemployed," which Jacob S. Coxey of Massillon, O., is leading to Washington, developed today while the "army" was on its way here from Canton. The dignified mule that draws the phaeton in which Coxey rides, balked at crossing a puddle in the road. Only after the "general" was ordered to lead the "army" did he cross the puddle.

When the "army" arrived here this afternoon its force had been swelled and a total of thirty "privates" were in line. The marchers slept tonight in the Town Hall at the invitation of Mayor Coy.

"MYSTERY WOMAN" GUILTY. Ella McClendon of Cape Girardeau Sentenced to Five Years on Each of Four Counts.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, (Mo.), April 17.—Ella McClendon, known locally as the "Mystery Woman," was found guilty on each of four counts in an indictment charging her with using the United States mails to defraud by a jury in the Federal Court today and was sentenced by Judge Dyer to five years on each count, the sentence to run concurrently. As the sentence was pronounced Miss McClendon fainted.

The government concentrated its case on the third count, which charged that Miss McClendon used the name of Ed Elders to obtain money fraudulently through the mails. This count alleged she wrote to the Clear Creek County Bank of Georgetown, Colo., and asked that a check for $1000 signed by John Rohan and made payable to and endorsed by Ed Elders, be cashed and the money sent to box 3, Studivant, Mo.

WOULD BUST UP THE BUG TRUST.

Slim Show for Germs After Clean-up Starts.

Whole Week of Scrub, Trim, Paint and Polish.

*Never Was Such Scouring as

Everybody is going to do it. Do what? Make the microbes do the turkey trot to a dead-march diapason in which the paint and scrub brushes will come out strong.

Officially, clean-up week starts Monday, but this hasn't prevented thousands from early enrollment in the army of amateur white wings. Today's accession will probably run into tens of thousands, as the school children will be free for the day, and Los Angeles expects every parent to do his or her duty.

Paint-up, clean-up, fuss-up and bust-up the germ trust is not an attempt at poetry or alliteration, but is the amended Los Angeles version of a slogan that has been sweeping the country. San Francisco is just completing a clean-up week, St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, and many other cities have had theirs, while Long Beach and possibly Pasadena and San Bernardino will join hands this week with Los Angeles in that cause which Lawrence Sterne or John Wesley or somebody else said is next to godliness.

With the Mayor's proclamation ringing in their ears, the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs, Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, Chamber of Commerce, and many other organizations safely aboard a band wagon, there, presumably, breathe but few with souls so dead that they won't give their joints to abate every and all nuisances in the dirt line. Get busy!

ALL AFTERNOONS. Spotted towns of advertising fame will not, absolutely not, have anything on Los Angeles if the present high resolves of endeavor hold out. "I never saw such spontaneity of action in my life," said Board of Public Works Commissioner O'Brien yesterday. "Everybody wants warms and they are going to get them, too."

Also the health, police, and fire departments will appreciate "tips" on nuisances that should be abated. If no one will claim that dead cat, let the policeman at the corner know of it. But especially keep your eyes open for conditions of open filth or disregard of elemental rules of fire protection. This argus-eyed city can't see everything. But it may happen that you know a place where disease is breeding. If you do, let the health department know it. The fire department will appreciate information on inflammables piled up in close proximity to inflammable structures.

Also, here is a splendid chance, strike out lustily in the name of a more beautiful Los Angeles. Cut these weeds or hire someone to cut them. They are unsightly and seeding time is near. Los Angeles hasn't many unemployed, but there are a few who will appreciate the opportunity to hang a scythe in the manner that will do most good.

As usual, the women are there with the punch. Practically every woman's organization in this city is behind the clean-up and when they get behind a thing, it goes.

REAL HOUSE-CLEANING.

Then there is the great army of the unorganized womanhood. She can't abide dirt, as witness the annual recurrence of that season hated of man—house-cleaning. Well, there will be house-cleaning galore this week. Down will come the lace curtains in thousands of homes, up will come the rugs, and he who sits will have to do so al fresco, and standing up.

If you do not believe that there is to be one saturnalia of house-cleaning, with all its attendant woes of readjusting your instincts to a new place for everything, collar-buttons included, visit the establishments which make a specialty of furnishing men for this work.

"Nothing doing," said the manager of one yesterday, as he significantly flicked his finger through a four-inch bundle of orders right in the face of

TOO MUCH ARELLANES.

Sacramento Heaver Allows but Three Hits.

Three Double Plays by the Venice Outfield.

Hogan Fired, but Returns in Disguise.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

The "Mexican situation" was yesterday transferred to the Washington street plaza, and the Tigers showed themselves wholly incompetent to cope with it.

Fitted against Senor Arellanes, the villa of the Coast League, and as fine a bull fighter as ever tickled a jaded bovine with a banderillo and then dodged to safety, they were forced to bow to the flag with the eagle and snake trimmings.

As overthrows, subjugators or pacifiers, the Tigers were a failure. Yesterday they couldn't even overthrow first base, and finished on the minimum end of a 2 to 1 score, thereby passing up a fine chance to lead the league overnight at least.

Unable to bring their batteries to bear on Arellanes with any degree of success, Hogan's men adopted a policy of "watchful waiting." This brought slight results in the sixth, when one of the five passes issued by Arellanes coupled with two hits, gave them their vagrant tally.

ONLY THREE HITS.
Up to that moment the Sacramento pitcher had not allowed a hit. The third and last single off his delivery was made by Carlisle in the eighth, and had no bearing on the result. Not much use trying to beat that kind of pitching without resorting to fire arms.

That was the view taken of the situation of Roy Hitt, the fat man retreating in a beaten condition in the eighth to permit Paul Melton to bat for him. Klepper fanned two of the four men to face him in the ninth.

Hitt was touched for seven hits, but kept them comfortably disconnected for the most part. He owes much to his outfielders, each of them figuring in a double play.

Other outfielders may have made three two-ply killings in one neon, but if so, I fail to find mention of it in the dope books.

HAP BASHED.
Hap Hogan took the defeat greatly to heart, doing so for the most part from an obscure corner of the right field bleachers. Umpire Held placed the rollers under Hogan in the sixth. Held had hardly turned his back when Hap bobbed up in the bleachers. Held chased him a second time. Hogan, disguising himself in a Panama hat, and a frock coat hastily slipped over his uniform, broke in again. The umpire was unable to penetrate this disguise and Hap continued to wig-wag signals to Captain Bayless to his heart's content.

Hitt issued just one pass. Young the first man to face him, was the beneficiary, and Hogan lost no time in presenting it at the counter for payment. He took second on Mohler's out, and scored on Rhinn's hit to left. Coy and Tennant were unable to prolong the rumpus.

DOUBLE PLAYS GALORE.
The thing narrowed down to one of those colorful affairs vulgarly known as a pitching duel, with not one whit of excitement until the fourth. In that round, Coy singled infield with one down. Tennant put a fly in short left. Kane made the catch while going at some speed, and doubled Coy at first just as easy as that.

Bayless pulled off his little stunt in the following inning, meaning the fifth. Hallman was on first as a result of his hit to left. Bayless caught Moran's foul after a long run, and had the ball in Horton's hands almost before the excited Hallman could wheel around and start back.

Not to be left out in the cold, Carlisle put on a similar sketch in the sixth. Young singled to center with one out. Mohler propelled a fly that took Carlisle back into deep left. It looked like a sure hit, but Walter managed to hook the ball, and sent it to Horton with precise peg, doubling Young by an overthrow.

SCORE IS TIED.
Venice tied up the count in the sixth. Hitt walked after Elliott had been retired. Carlisle fouled to Hannan. Leard then leaped against one waist-high for a line single to center, thereby shattering all thoughts of a no-hit performance. Hitt took second on this flick. Kane flashed a single to right, and Hitt scored, pausing en route, however, to accept comfort and advice from the coacher at third. After this delay, Roy never would have arrived safely had not Rhinn juggled the ball slightly.

Arellanes walked Bayless deliberately. Hogan, all joy, was here chased by Held. With things ripe for a clean-up, Hosp hammered the ball into the ground, and was thrown out by Hannan.

THE WINNING RUN.
Sacramento tied it in the eighth. Moran doubled with one down, but was nailed at third on Hannan's grounder to McAdie. Arellanes hit to center and reached third where Kane failed to field the ball with his accustomed cleanness. Young left a high fly back of first, that dropped safely into an excited crowd commotion.

AD WOLGAST'S HAND TO BE BROKEN AGAIN AND RE-SET.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 17.—An X-Ray examination of his left hand today convinced Ad Wolgast, former light weight champion, that he would be unable to engage in another boxing contest for six weeks or two months. The examination showed one of the small bones in Wolgast's left hand had been broken and the bones had not knitted properly.

Acting upon the advice of his physician, Wolgast will have the bone broken again and re-set by local experts. When Tom Jones learned the verdict he called off Wolgast's match with Johnny Tillman, scheduled at Hudson, Wis., on April 23, and one with Billy Wagner, carded at Kalamazoo on May 1. It is doubtful whether Wolgast will be seen in action until he battles Joe Rivers over the long route before McCarey's Vernon Club of California, the second week in June.

BROWN GREET'S OXFORD ATHLETES.

PROVIDENCE, April 16.—The athletes who will represent Oxford University at the international relay meet at Philadelphia next week received a vociferous welcome when they arrived here today for a few days' training at Brown University.

Norman S. Tabor, a Rhodes scholar, and Brown Alumnus, is a member of the team.

The entire Brown student body, accompanied by a brass band, met the athletes at the railway station and escorted them to the tune of "The British Grenadiers" up the hill to the Oxonian.

The Oxonians practiced this afternoon on Andrews Field. They will go to Cambridge tomorrow, where they will be entertained at luncheon by the Harvard Athletic Association. If the weather is favorable they will have a workout on the stadium track in the afternoon. Returning here at night they will leave Saturday morning.

HARLEM TOMMY MURPHY DIDN'T HAVE A LOOK-IN.

AN FRANCISCO, April 17.—Willie Ritchie set the Tommy Murphy bugbear at rest tonight and what is more, in the twentieth-round beating that he administered to the New York fighter, proved to the followers which Murphy was subjected and yet standing on his feet at the close. His ability to assimilate punishment and still fight in a dogged if ineffective fashion was marvelous. Time and again it seemed beyond the power of human endurance for Murphy to withstand the hard body blows and yet he stood through it all, even showing a flash and spirit when it was least expected.

WONDERFUL GAMENESS.

And that too, with Ritchie showing a harder punch in his work tonight than he has been known to possess so far as his San Francisco ring career is concerned. That Ritchie owned a hard right cross was well known, but it took his performance against Murphy to demonstrate that he can send in a crushing left as well as a hard right to the body. Nor is there any question but that Ritchie was trying, and trying his hardest, to stop the New Yorker. When Murphy looked the most tired, and there were many such moments, then was when Ritchie was to the fore, fighting more viciously than ever, belaboring Harlem Tommy around the ring and ever again using right or left to the stomach and over the heart.

That Willie failed in his efforts can only be laid to Murphy's wonderful condition and his gameness. Men who have watched the fighting game for a quarter of a century or more shook their heads as the Ritchie punches went sent home true to the mark and wondered at the power that allowed the beaten man to do other than fall in his tracks.

OLD MAN TOMMY.

Unquestionably tonight's battle will tell on Murphy in the future. He is no longer a youngster and even a youngster would find it difficult not to show the effects, as indeed other fighters who have taken the same sort of a beating have proved. Tommy was strong enough to walk from his corner, but all during the bout his seconds were busy keeping him in the best sort of shape possible, and it was an old man more than a young one who limped across the ring and went into his dressing-room.

As for Ritchie, the result was naturally a triumph. Openly accused on some hands of attempting to avoid the issue against Murphy, accusations that came, because of unavoidable postponement, it could not be otherwise than that the champion would feel gratified that his victory was so decisive and the decision such that no one could question it.

FORLORN DEFEAT.

With all the sentiment in favor of Murphy, because of his gameness in continuing against such odds, there was no question as to the decision that was to be rendered by Referee Jim Griffin. With a one-sided showing and as many rounds in favor of Ritchie, Griffin's task was an easy one as the last round closed, and Ritchie, himself, turned toward the auditorium in a matter of fact, saying that his hands might be elevated and the verdict formally registered. The crowd took it as a matter of course.

Murphy couldn't have won barring a knockout, after the fight had gone half way, and by that time the beating he received, had unquestionably weakened him. The New Yorker was still aggressive, but his aggressiveness was a futile sort of aggressiveness, with no end in sight. Just a bulldog determination, backed up by a play of grit, to see his troubles through to the finish.

HAD NO PUNCH.

Murphy, as had been predicted and expected, failed to show a punishing punch. Even in the clinches, where it was thought he might show to advantage, he failed to worry the San Francisco lad and not one of his blows had damaging effect. Tommy showed flashes at times that promise well, but more times than the crowd at long range could see, Ritchie was smothering Murphy's best punches, engineering his man about the ring and waiting his opportunity to land effectively. The winner showed to the best advantage when he waited for Tommy's rushes, met him firmly and either peppered his man to the face or landed the harder blows to the body.

Generally, Ritchie made of his fight a battle to the body, and that was what told on Murphy and wore down his strength even though it could not break his spirit. Once in the middle of the fight, Ritchie sent in a cruel right cross to the head as Murphy was backed to his corner. It staggered Murphy for the moment and he had to clinch. But the never-say-die spirit of the strong-hearted Irish brought him back the next round and he was working just as hard as ever he could.

TOMMY NEVER FALTERED.

The stomach punches, while less spectacular, must have been painful to the extreme, but save for an occasional slowing up of his speed or a tendency to sag down, Murphy never showed that he was taking the beating of his life and kept on coming in for more. He was badly dazed in the last five rounds and it was apparent to the crowd that he was fighting solely on his nerve and nothing more.

At one stage of the proceedings—in the seventh and eighth rounds—Ritchie slackened. He had been carrying the fight to Murphy at a terrific pace from the first round to the sixth, with a decided advantage. Suddenly the battle slowed. Ritchie was either resting, saving up his energies, or was tiring. Future events, proved that the champion was merely resting, but the slacking of the pace gave the Murphy boys their one chance to root for their favorite and they did it with a will.

Ritchie scarcely used his right in those two rounds and contented himself with an even break. He commenced to come stronger in the ninth, however.

MURPHY WEAKER.

GAIETY COMPANIES' HEAD DUE HERE NEXT MONDAY.

By Gardner Bradford.

GENERAL MANAGER O'DAY, who succeeded Jake Rosenthal as head of the Gaiety companies, one of which is now doing so well at the Morocco, is due in town Monday, I am told.

No one seems to know why, unless it is to count the money and look over a real success, but Sid Harris, local manager, is taking no chances. All the girls must settle their I.O.U.'s and Sid himself is having his famous twenty-first-century costume pressed for the occasion.

Maybe, though, O'Day is coming down to take in the Midway Pleasure which opens Monday night at Seventh and Grand. You see, "The Girl Behind the Counter" is going on there on tango and on costume, after the regular show, and do some stunts.

Which reminds me that Fritz Schell says she isn't going, after all. "I have to change clothes twelve times a day and when it's over I'm all in," is her plea, and you really can't blame her.

However, there are others as I discovered when a trio of Chinamen called on me yesterday afternoon to find out where the place was. Seems Chief Sebastian corralled them to run the fantan games and, as they like the game, they wanted to begin right away.

"Do it now" is the celestial slogan, and also that of the "movies." Remember I mentioned the forming of a movie league the other day? Well, they are going to play Sunday out at the old Vernon grounds, with the Keystone and Universal teams in competition. All the pretty girls are going to be there, and they tell me Mabel Normande is going to pitch the first ball.

I understand Marie Dressler is to be there, too, among other celebrities. She is working for the Keystone people, being featured in temperamental films. I am not sure whether she is playing G. M. Anderson for tuition or not.

Just because Mme. de Ross lost two of the cats from her show they are going to have a cat trout at the Republic Monday morning, and any local tabbies yearning for stage careers are earnestly requested to be present, and maybe land a job.

I understand musical ability only counts 1 per cent.

Bill Schneider of the Bristol celebrated a birthday yesterday, or at least that is the reason he gave for carrying a big bunch of roses around with him. I thought that he had one two or three months ago, but maybe that was the night he put on his new carabao.

"When do I use those gondolas I got for you?" peevishly queried Manager Fountain of the Hippodrome to the manager of the Venetian Grand Opera Company now playing there.

They are using the big tank in as many of the operas as they can for great scenic effects, but this week it is "Lucia," which is Scotch, and next week "Carmen."

"I can't use gondolas in 'Carmen,'" continued Fountain. "What is it you put in the water for Spanish operas, anyway?"

"Mackerel," was the quick retort.

Look who's here. Phyllis Gordon, whom many of you will remember through her connection with the Auditorium stock company three or four years ago.

She makes her return bow to Los Angeles next week at the Alhambra, returning to her first love, musical comedy. Yes, that's a fact, for Phyllis used to be quite some merry villager in "A Night for a Day"—so good, in fact, that they used to give her all the singing understudies.

POLY HIGH HAS BEST FISHES.

IN READ FOR INTERSCHOOL SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIP.

Tuttle, Star Performer in D.A.C. Tank, Winning Four Events—Long Beach Second and L. A. High Third—Millard and Dunlap Show to Advantage.

Poly High's crack swimming team pulled up eleven points and took a big lead in the opening of the Southern California interschool swimming championship at the L.A.A.C. last night.

Tuttle, of Poly, was easily the star of the evening, winning first in his heats of the 50, 100, 220-yard dashes and the finals of the 440. He was a good fifteen yards ahead of the second man at the finish of the quarter.

The events were run off in good order with some fine exhibition stunts sandwiched in to entertain between events. Cliff Bowers won the exhibition back-stroke race and pulled off some fancy diving stunts.

Both Tuttle and Dunlap, a Long Beach fish, showed class in the trial heats of the dashes. Millard, another Long Beach man, was right behind Tuttle in both the shorter swims, and he will be among the leaders in the finals.

Butler of Poly and Flahburn of L. A. High tied for first honors in the diving events, but the former won on the jump-off.

Poly has 11 points, Long Beach 4 and Los Angeles High 3.

The summary: The 50-yard dash (trial)—Tuttle (P.) first, Millard (L. B.) second; time, 23.3-5s. Second heat—Dunlap (L. B.) first, Hickey (P.) second; time, 23.3-5s.

Auto Club's new Premier.

AUTO CLUB CAR STARTS ACROSS THE CONTINENT.

DELIVERY was made last night by E. W. Kelley, manager of the Premier Motor Car Company, of a new Premier "Six" to the Automobile Club of Southern California, for its work in charting and signposting the National Old Trails road through Northern Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and thence to Washington, Philadelphia and New York.

The matter of selection of a car by the Automobile Club has been under consideration for the past two weeks, during which all the best makes of cars on the market were examined and tested by the club's engineer. It was because of its record in transcontinental work that the Premier car was selected.

A. L. Westgard, the roadman of the American Automobile Association, who has made more transcontinental trips across America than any other living person, used a Premier "Six."

It was because of the record that Mr. Westgard has made with the car, and because of the other use in a similar manner of that machine that the Auto Club made its purchase of a Premier for its transcontinental work this year.

This important work, which promises to bring a large proportion of the transcontinental motor travel of 1915 to the Pacific Coast through Southern California, has been entrusted to the care of the engineering and route and map service department of the club, and will be carried out under the direction of O. K. Parker, chief engineer of that organization.

Mr. Parker and Carl E. McStay, special representative of the club, are to leave tomorrow for their second trip over the Old Trails Road to the East.

Upon the first trip over the route, it was found that the highway through northern Arizona had been so improved during the past year that no question now remains as to that road being popular, so much so that the Automobile Club has passed final judgment in the signposting of the route, and work will commence at once.

Sufficient notes were taken by Mr. Parker on the first trip so that the order for the signs between Los Angeles and the Grand Canyon can be placed at once, and the work of setting the posts will begin in May.

That portion of the work will be carried out by M. G. Wagner of Kingman, Ariz., who has a truck especially constructed for that class of work. The signs will be shipped to Needles, Kingman and Ashfork, and from those points, distributed and set during the month of May.

TODAY'S MEETING WILL BE DECISIVE BATTLE OF SEASON.

Victory of Baptists Over Occidental Upsets Dope on Outcome of Game. Becker and Elliott to Start in Game Despite Injuries—Pitchers' Duel Certain.

Pomona will entertain the Redlands Baptists on the Claremont diamond today and the game promises to be the decisive contest of the season. Redlands has an unusually strong team this year, and the Baptists, realizing this, are backing their team heavily.

Over 100 rooters will accompany the nine in two special cars, and promise to hold their own with the strong Sage Hen rooting section. Redlands' defeat of Oxy last Saturday was not entirely unexpected by those who had seen both teams in action, despite the fact that the Tigers were supposed to have the classiest aggregation of amateur ball players in the South.

If the Hens can come out on top tomorrow they have hopes of landing first place in the championship race. Otherwise the chances are excellent for third place. Pomona and Redlands lead in the percentage column at present, each team having won one game and lost none.

Becker and Elliott will be opposed by Art Gram and Henschke of Redlands. With both pitchers working right a tight tussle is assured. Last year each pitcher won and lost one game to the other and tomorrow's contest will in a measure determine which man comes off second best.

Youngman, who was injured in practice Wednesday, will start the game at third, but it is not known if he can last. Elliott is capable of going the whole route, as his injury was not as serious as his team-mate's. Knowlton, formerly of the Tri-State League, will umpire.

NOVEL CONTEST FOR FAIR GOLFERS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) REDLANDS, April 16.—A new golf contest has been announced for women at the Redlands Country Club. It will take place on May 8, and will be an approaching and putting contest for a cup offered by Mrs. Fred W. Harley. The conditions governing the play, have just been posted as follows:

The contest is open to all women, resident, non-resident and visiting members.

The contest will begin promptly at 2 p.m., Tuesday, May 5.

Each competitor shall approach and hole out two balls from two different stations situated at different lengths from the hole.

The Green Committee will not announce the selection of the green and approaching station until the time of the contest.

Competitors must play in pairs, and no competitor will be allowed to approach from station No. 2 until all have finished play from station No. 1.

LETTERS AWARDED. (SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.) CLAREMONT, April 17.—At a meeting of the associated students today track letters and insignia were awarded as follows: The right to wear the major sport "P" was granted to LaFollette, 18; Clary, 15; Metz, 15; George Green, 17; W. Sturges, 17, and Charles Green, 17. One star, denoting a year's service on the slender path, was also given each of these men, and additional stars were also awarded to Capt. Gillette, 14; Davies, 14; Durkee, 15; Fowleson, 16; Heath, 15, and D. Sturges, 14.

A gold track fob for four years of continuous service in track was presented to Capt. Gillette.

ATHLETES GO EAST. (BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 17.—Palo Alto High School, which won the recent interschool track meet here, is planning to send a three-man team to the Chicago interschool meet, to be held early in June. Kendrick Johnson, the school's star sprinter; Angell, a high jumper, and Wallace, pole vaulter and broad jumper, are to be selected for the trip.

Are They Missed?
[Indianapolis News:] A slow train in the north part of the State stopped at a village of about 150 inhabitants and a man and his family got off. The train waited several minutes while the family detrained. The mother was surrounded by nine small children as the family started home. "Do you know," said the brakeman in a confidential tone to a man in the smoker, "I've often wondered if it is pretty lonesome in that town when that man and his family go visiting."

UNIONIST MADE POLICE JUDGE.

McBride Is Appointed by Phoenix Commission.

Senator Smith Returns to Open Fall Campaign.

Republicans Encouraged by Democrats' Troubles.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 17.—At least a part of the old city government has been left in that City Recorder Frank Thomas has been appointed by City Manager Farish to be City Clerk under the new commission government, and Charles Barnett has been retained as City Assessor and Tax Collector. George Brinsford, night captain of police, has been appointed chief of police. Heretofore the City Recorder has acted also as police judge. The latter office has been segregated under the charter and to it the commission has appointed John McBride, whose indorsement is understood to have come especially from the labor union, in which he has been a prominent figure. In 1894 he was elected president of the American Federation of Labor. In 1911 he moved from Columbus, O., to Phoenix, where, latterly, he has operated a cigar factory.

WELCOME TO ELKS.
The first proclamation of Mayor G. U. Young extends official welcome to the Elks of the State, who are to be here in force next week, and declare a half-holiday on April 16, one of the days of the Arizona Sun Fests.

SENATORIAL CAMPAIGN.
The fall Senatorial campaign may be considered as opened with the return of Senator Mark Smith to Arizona, here to attend the Jefferson banquet in Phoenix Monday night. In his own party the strongest opposition seems to be the party's nominee, a Phoenix lawyer decidedly not associated with the populist wing of the Arizona Democracy. This wing is expected to make a choice soon for the Senatorial nomination.

REPUBLICANS ACTIVE.
Possibly encouraged by the dissemination in the Democratic ranks, the Republicans are waking up. It now seems probable that J. Lorenzo Hubbell, chairman of the Republican State Committee, will be the party's nominee for Senator. Speaking Spanish fluently, possessing personal attributes commanding the highest popularity, of unblemished record in public and private life during many years of residence in Arizona, there would appear little reason why he should not be elected in November. A strong running mate will be Ralph H. Cameron, former Representative from Arizona, who now is being pushed for nomination as Governor. Cameron is considered the best campaigner in the State and has an excellent record in Congress.

TIDEWATER RAILROAD.
Permission has been accorded by the Corporation Commission to the Tucson, Phoenix and Tidewater Railroad Company to issue and sell stocks and bonds to the value of $4,000,000, to be used in construction of the proposed direct railroad line between Tucson and this city. A surveying party has been placed in the field and the line will be finished in eight months.

VERDE RIVER DAM.
At a late election within the Salt River Valley Water Users' Association, John Orme was re-elected president and approval was given the plan of damming the Verde River at a cost of about $1,000,000, to be borne by the association. By the new dam it is expected that 35,000 acres will be added to the local irrigation project, bringing down very materially the cost per acre to the farmers. The new project will involve no additions to the distribution system, and will merely conserve the flood waters of the Verde.

INDIAN SCHOOL.
In Phoenix is maintained a Presbyterian school for the training of Indians for religious work among their tribesmen. The school has been named after the Rev. Charles H. Cook, for many years missionary to the Pima Indians, and is supported by the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions. Arrangements are being made to build for the school on a two-acre tract on North Central avenue, opposite the Indian school.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT MY NEW SPRING SUIT?

We haven't anything quite as giddy as this in the store, but we have a few new designs that closely approach it, and a good many of those striking new fabrics have been included in our suit-to-order special at $20.

Is it any wonder that while other tailors are hollering about bad business, we're running the shop to capacity and crowding ourselves to get out the work?

Make your acquaintance with the Brauer tailoring system right now.

Purifies Blood With Telling Effect

Gives Conscious Evidence of Its Direct Action.

R. S. S., the famous blood purifier, almost talks as it sweeps its way through the circulation. Its action is so direct that very often in some forms of skin affliction the appearance of the eruptions changes overnight, the itch and redness are gone and recovery begins immediately.

As a matter of fact, there is one ingredient in R. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply; it generally expels all existing poisons in the coming system, rash, pimples, and all skin afflictions.

In regenerating the tissues R. S. S. has a rapid and positive antidotal effect upon all those irritating influences that cause rheumatism, sore throat, weak eyes, loss of weight, thin, pale cheeks, and the weariness of muscle and nerve that is generally experienced as spring fever. Get a bottle of R. S. S. at any drug store, and in a few days you will not only feel bright and energetic, but you will be the picture of a new life. R. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 58-59 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., who maintain a very efficient Medical Department, where all who have any blood disorder of a stubborn nature may write freely for advice and a special book of instruction. R. S. S. is sold everywhere by drug stores. It is a general tonic, but beware of all substitutes that do not accept them.

Notary Public in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

The Times is the only newspaper in Los Angeles that does not make a practice of permitting agents, newsboys and dealers to return copies of its issue. Neither does it mislead or predate its editions, or inflate its circulation by printing more copies than are actually necessary to supply its patrons.

The Times' entire circulation is practically net, and it is more genuine and superior in every respect to that of any other newspaper.

THE WEATHER.

(Official Report.)

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, April 17.—(Reported by Fred A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.) At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.96; at 5 p.m., 29.97. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 59 deg. and 78 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 50 per cent.; 5 p.m., 17 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., north, velocity 4 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 9 miles. Highest temperature 84 deg.; lowest, 65 deg. Rainfall for season, 22.83 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—The western trough of low pressure is now located over Minnesota, Iowa, Iowa, Oklahoma and Texas. The easterly draft of this depression resulted in light precipitation over Wyoming, Utah, Colorado and South Dakota, and increased temperatures throughout the Mississippi Valley generally. The western high area controls the weather over the region between the Pacific Coast and the Rocky Mountains, so that freezing temperatures prevail in Idaho, Nevada and portions of Utah and Arizona. The weather in Los Angeles and vicinity will be fair Saturday.

LOCAL FORECAST.
For Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair Saturday; northerly winds. For California south of the Tehachapi: Fair Saturday.

STATE FORECAST.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—Forecast: Fair, continued warm, Saturday light northerly winds. Sacramento, Santa Clara and San Joaquin valleys: Fair, continued warm, Saturday light northerly winds. Southern California: Fair Saturday; light northerly winds.

OWNING AN AUTO.

Some persons will never figure the cost of gasoline and new tires until the bank agent comes to foreclose the mortgage on the home.

TOO SEVERE.

London newspapers blame the trouble with Mexico upon Wilson's policy of moral intervention. This is a harsh term. We cannot believe that Wilson ever did anything as definite as that.

LIMITATIONS.

It is proposed to stop chauffeurs from spooning in automobiles by legislation. It would take more than a threat of jail to keep a man's arm away from a sweet girl's waist on a moonlight ride.

WHO IS IT?

On whom was the demand for a salute of twenty-one guns to the American flag at Tampico made? On the President de jure or de facto of the Mexican republic? Who is the President? Our President says it is not Huerta.

THE APPRAISER.

The only person in the world well pleased with everybody else is the tax assessor. It is strange how well he thinks of other people's furniture. The estimate he puts on it would tickle your vanity if it was not going to cost you real money.

WHAT IS OWNERSHIP?

Some of the advocates of the free tolls repeat the question, "Why can't we do what we like with a canal constructed on our own land?" by saying that it is not our own land, that it belongs to the republic of Panama and we have only "the use, occupation and control of it." Is that all? What attribute of ownership of anything is there other than "use, occupation and control of it?"

THE WRONG IDEA.

California has more pretty gardens than any land in the world and still we have too few considering the possibilities of the country. This is largely because some people think gardening is work where it is only fun, and others think of it as something practical where it is entirely art. The gardener is an artist, creating beautiful things in order to have a healthful hobby.

THE BIG CLEAN-UP.

It should be done, not because the Mayor has ordered it and the police are going to enforce it, but for the sake of cleanliness as a safeguard from contagion and fire. There can be no doubt that the tremendous annual fire loss in the United States is due in an amazing degree to littered counters, back yards and cellars. America is an extravagant nation and its most criminal extravagance is that haste and looseness of the mercantile world which plunges it into so much fire loss. This reminds us that when Bluffski met Dufferikitski and said with much commiseration, "I was sorry to hear that you were burned out last Tuesday," the latter replied, "Not last Tuesday—next Tuesday." That kind of fire, however, is pretty much out of fashion, but it would be no excuse for not attending to your civic house-cleaning next week if it were still in vogue.

USE AND ABUSE.

All things are intended for man's use, nothing for his abuse. Intemperance is an indication of folly. Greed is a lack of faith in life's sufficiency. Men may always take freely of all that they need, but an attempt to take more than one can use amounts to self-destruction. Sleep is good and food and drink are good, but when sleep begins to tyrannize over you and to keep your eyelids heavy all the sun-bright day, when food begins to eat you and when drink begins to drown you it is time to pause and look yourself squarely in the face. Over-indulgence is not so wicked as it is foolish. The death of a glutton, may not be the visitation of an angry god, but it is certainly the strict economy by which nature preserves the integrity of her varied forms. The very laws that limit us are the laws that protect us, even from ourselves, and the stability of those laws guarantees the reward of those who abide by them.

THE BLACK HEART.

A man strangled a woman to death in this city and smiled when the jury brought in its verdict of guilty. It is a curious fact that excessive passion and the license of what is called free love always end in some form of violence and generally in bloodshed. Under the fierce fires of ungoverned desire the heart is burned to cinders. Some carker their hearts with gambling and feed the lust to women. Some find themselves with a quenchless thirst on which a hell-heated jealousy lays hold until the sickness of life bursts into a rage to end itself and drag its victims into waiting graves. It is unlikely that monogamy is natural, either to men or women, and a clever scientist has remarked that the success of monogamy in its present degree is the most heroic proof of the victory of mind over matter. He that says it is, blood has always been the price of procreancy, and the nature which violates itself with frequency must in the end turn like a wounded serpent and with its venom sting itself to death.

WHY AGAINST THE BONDS.

Men and women, you should vote "no" on the power bonds because the bonded debt of Los Angeles has jumped from $7,000,000 in 1907 to $18,992,000 in 1914, a debt load heavy and dangerous enough without adding $6,500,000 (when only $1,250,000 is really needed), which would make the city's total bonded debt $45,492,000.

Because to meet the present bonded debt you taxpayers are now paying $534 for every business day in the year, and the proposed issue of $6,500,000 (including an entirely unnecessary $5,250,000 for part of a distributing system) would make $11,000 taxes per business day for bonds alone.

Because, meantime, there are other immediately necessary expenditures for you to make; the absolutely necessary school bonds, for instance—$4,600,000—to provide essential buildings and teachers and equipment for the children of Los Angeles, which bonds are to be voted for on May 14, only six days later than May 8, the day set for voting on the $6,500,000 power bonds; storm bonds, bonds for water mains, bonds for purchase of private water plants, and bonds for a long, long list of other pressing necessities.

Because the amount of the proposed bond issue—$6,500,000—represents only part of the money actually needed for the construction, purchase, or condemnation (consolidation) of an electric distributing system. That amount even if all of it were to be available (which is not the case) for that purpose, would scarcely purchase or install such a system in the downtown district alone. More bonds would be needed to give you aqueduct electricity in your home.

Because competition always makes for expense, that eventually falls on the consumer. Remember that the city would have to secure one-half of all the electric light and power business in Los Angeles before it would even be paying expenses only on its power project.

Because the City Council's announced plan of condemning parts of the properties of local power companies would involve you in long and expensive litigation; and would discourage investors and capital from coming here; and because the companies stand ready to do all in their power to remove legal and practical difficulties, so that, at the end of five years, you may purchase their distributing systems without going to law, on terms fair to you and without heavy bond issues.

Because the present rates for light and power are among the lowest in the United States and are being constantly reduced. By using the existing systems which cover the entire city, your Councilmen could fix the lowest possible rates.

Because the present electric service in Los Angeles is the best in the world, absolutely certain, 100 per cent. efficient, your service coming now from sixteen separate power plants and several independent transmission lines, so that no storm or accident can cut off your service. Such 100 per cent. efficient service would not be possible with the city's single power plant and single transmission line across the mountains. The city's plans do not even contemplate an auxiliary steam plant for use in emergencies.

Because the present systems, which have grown with the city, and reach every edifice in it, would serve all the people at all times, at rates you fix through your city officials, the rates being the same to all; and by co-operation, the profits on the sale of your power going to you; and this without a bond issue, which will cost you $450,000 a year to carry, equal to $1500 for each business day.

Because the power companies stand ready to enter into a co-operative arrangement with the city (that's you) for the use of their complete distributing systems for five years, the city (that's you) to make all contracts with you as consumers, to read your meters, to fix your rates, handle all your money, and pay the companies for their services such an amount as your State Railroad Commission would fix, thus giving you, as voters and taxpayers, all the benefits of immediate municipal ownership, without any more bonds, except the $1,250,000 for the completion of power plant No. 1 (which you can't get, says the Council, without voting for $6,500,000 bonds), and saving you, as taxpayers, $1500 every business day of the year.

Inasmuch as under this plan of co-operation you can immediately get all that municipal ownership can give you, why saddle yourselves as voters and taxpayers, with $6,500,000 more bonds, $1500 a day more taxes, long and expensive litigation, disastrous competition and loss?

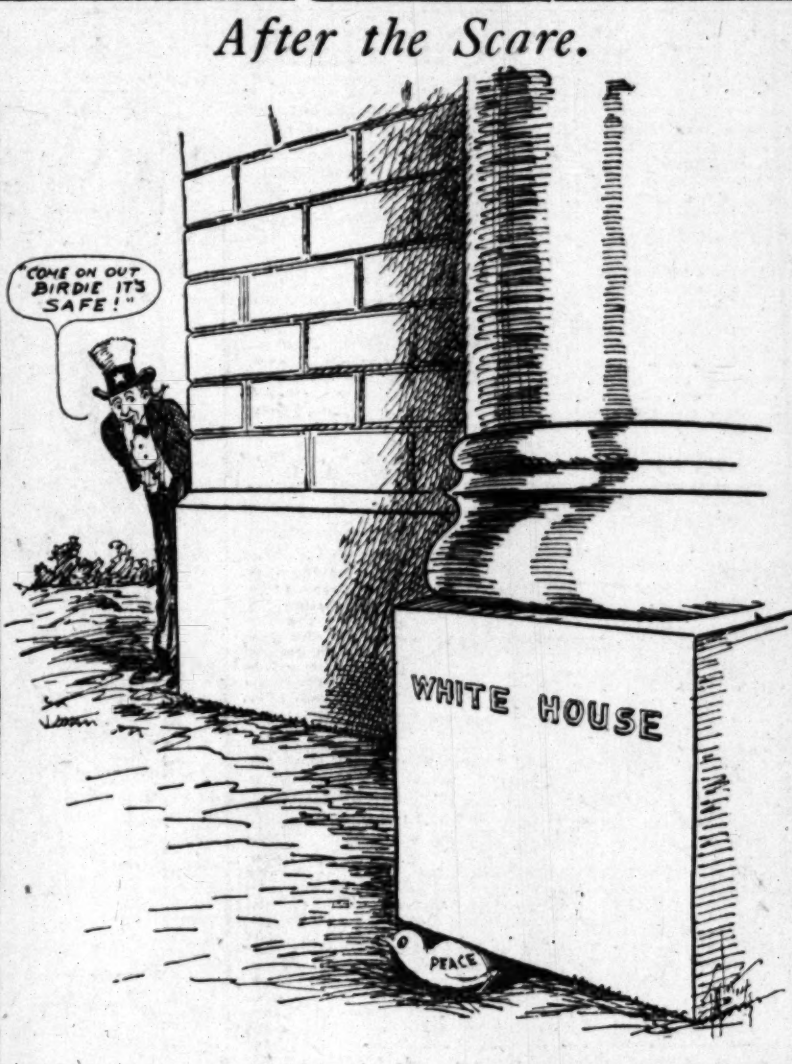

A FUTURE FOR JOHNSON.

The immigration into Canada from the United States has for the last four years numbered about 120,000 per annum. It has consisted of lumbermen from Maine and from the State of Washington; of farmers from the Middle States and North-western States; and, later, of artisans and capitalists into the new and rapidly growing cities of Calgary and Medicine Hat, where there has been discovered and partially developed a natural gas supply so extensive that engineers of experience declare that it would be impossible to consume the supply now in sight during the present century. Within the city limits of Medicine Hat there are now twenty natural gas wells with an open daily flow of fifty million cubic feet equal to about 200,000 horse power. Unlike coal or fuel oil, which can be shipped any distance, natural gas must be used within a few hundred miles of the well from whence it spouts, and its use is subject to the objection that if the flow ceases the industries which depend upon it for motive power may—as was the case in a "gas city" in Indiana—be forced to discontinue operations.

A much more reliable basis than either neighboring fuel oil or gas, is a water power in a part of the country where there is no known, and where the ice king never lays a fettering hand on the streams, so as to stop their flow.

This can never be the case in Canada, yet Canada offers the inducement of cheap and easily acquired lands and ready and nearby cash markets in the United States for her products. She encourages newcomers to naturalize, and offers to those who naturalize material advantages in the way of acquiring land. She does not require of her immigrants the reward for country diligence. The city must be kept as clean as a model home and the country as fresh and fragrant as a well-tended garden. They are complements one of the other.

In a way clean-up week is an act of religious devotion, a sacrifice to the Vestal and spent the last year of five years in that part of the empire in which the application for naturalization was made. There is pending now in the House of Commons a bill to make the naturalization of an alien in one part of the British empire effective throughout the whole of the empire.

Under this law, combined with the Canadian statute, a naturalized subject who returned to the United States reverted by the fact of his return to his original position as a citizen of the United States.

Mr. J. Saxon Mills recently made an argument before the Royal Colonial Institute in London in behalf of the proposed amendment to the British naturalization laws in which he mentioned the case of a member of the Canadian Dominion Cabinet who came from the United States and was naturalized in Canada. If that Minister left Canada he would at once revert to the position of a citizen of the United States. It has secured sufficient shakels from the Minister to represent the Dominion on the committee of imperial defence in London, and they might have been presented the remarkable spectacle of a citizen of the United States serving upon that committee, and taking part in all its deliberations.

It was certainly rather diverting, said Mr. Mills, that a Premier of a British Dominion might attend a coronation ceremony or an imperial conference in England and take part in all kinds of imperial jubilees and conferences without being a British subject in the United Kingdom or anywhere else except in his own country.

If this act of Parliament passes, as it probably will, it will open great possibilities to Gov. Johnson, who will, after the year, thank God, be ex-Gov. Johnson. He can take a run up to British Columbia, naturalize there as a British subject, be elected Mayor of Vancouver, and after his term expires escape to Hongkong, where he can serve as pound master until he has secured sufficient shakels from the owners of the pet cur his deputies have stolen in the night-time to carry him to Melbourne or Sydney, where he will hold some public office that will enable him to kick one of two railroads out of politics, thence around the Cape of Good Hope to distant Cathay, where he will be sure to be appointed a Maharajah. Thence by the Isthmus of Suez to Galway, where his love of a fight will be demonstrated at Donnybrook fair, thence he will proceed to London and instruct Anquith and Balfour and the other Cabinet Ministers how to run their respective offices. Finally, he will be kicked down the stairs of Westminster Palace by a liveried myrmidon of George V. Then, alas and alas for the peace of California, he will return to Sacramento and run for something!

CLEAN-UP WEEK.

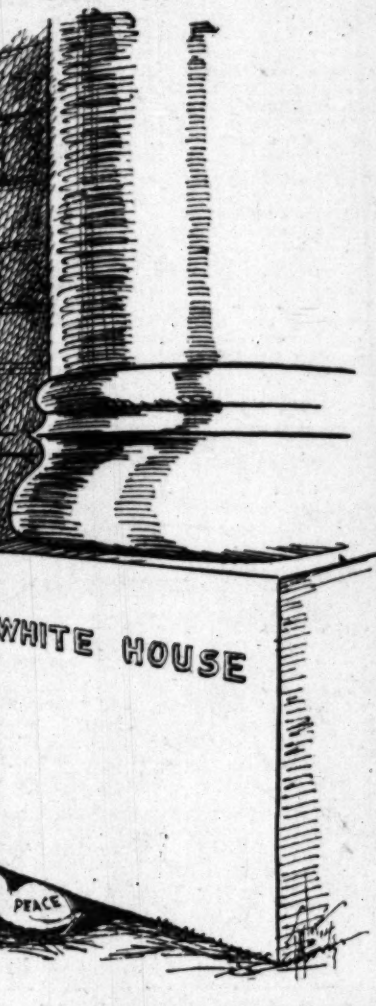

Now is the season for spring cleaning. Now is the time for Los Angeles as a whole to do what every tidy housewife is doing as an individual. We must have the whole city and suburbs and surrounding country as sweet as a maiden's new frock, as bright as a golden penny. Nature will repay us a hundredfold for the week well spent in a general and a thorough clean-up. The copious rains of February spread a green mantle over all vacant lots and uncultivated lands in and around Los Angeles. But the warmer suns of the coming months will convert these in their turn to brown and gray wastes of withered weeds, to be unsightly blot on the landscape they once adorned.

For good grain or useless weed the harvest comes; nature never halts the procession; man cannot afford to fall behind. As the good grain is gathered and stored in barns, so must the weeds be rooted up and consumed by the fire. Both fulfill their duties. The weeds in their green youth, the grain in its ripened age.

A clean city lot whose good brown summer soil absorbs only the sunshine is a part of our city housekeeping, as the irrigated alfalfa field and murmuring leaves of orchard trees are the reward for country diligence. The city must be kept as clean as a model home and the country as fresh and fragrant as a well-tended garden. They are complements one of the other.

After the Scare.

goddess that presides over the hearth and the home. Los Angeles is the city beautiful—and will ever be so as long as men and women co-operate harmoniously with nature. Nor must we forget that next year is to be a floral year for our golden Southland. So this year clean-up week appeals more strongly than ever to all our loyal citizens. Next year comes California's jubilee, when the golden Southland is to be a startled surprise in its wealth of flowers and beauty for the eyes of a million visitors.

GOVERNING TOO MUCH.

The proposed establishment by act of Congress of a national bureau of censorship over moving picture films is another case where the remedy proposed is worse than the disease to be eradicated, and it does not appear that there is any disease or symptoms of one. If the moving picture companies anywhere present immoral or indecent scenes, or attempt to do so, they can readily be checked by State laws and municipal ordinances. It is not necessary to invoke the services of Uncle Sam for such a purpose, any more than to enact a national vagrant law, or a Federal statute for the arrest and punishment of inebriates.

There is pending in Congress a bill to exclude from the mails the correspondence of stock brokers who are members of an exchange that has failed to punish by expulsion members who have been guilty of wash sales. It is a vile law.

Because some newspapers publish reports of divorce and other trials giving details of sex-consciousness, or print libels, or contain ungrammatical editorials, or advertisements of opium-flavored cigarettes and pernicious whisky cocktails is no reason why a press censor should be placed in the office of every daily journal with power to read all the proofs and strike out all matter that fails to meet his approval.

Because some newspaper editors have had taste to tell off-colored stories, or indulge in criticism of government officials, is no reason for establishing censors who should attend public meetings and banquets with power to promptly gag or remove from the rostrum an offending orator. Libel laws, and laws to punish any actions, or publications, or utterances against public morals are adequate for the protection of the rising generation, Congress has enough to do without meddling with such matters. "The world is governed too much."

THE LOAFERS.

When spring comes, soft and balmy, with zephyrs flying loose, and weather cold and clammy is canned for future use; when spring, the genial fairy, brings solace to our souls, and all the world is merry, the loafers leave their holes. They come, the whole blamed slather, from holes, the Lord knows where, and on the corners gather, and chew and smoke and swear. They come, the ragged loafers, who'd rather die than work, as useless as the gophers that in the cornfields lurk; as useless as the foxes that steal the farmer's geese, they sit on dry goods boxes—their small disturbs the peace. The peelers see them sitting all day, a dinky sight, their parches never quitting from morning until night; but do the peelers nab them, or try to get their goats? Ah, no! No cops will grab them as independent as donkey eating hay, because they shine resplendent upon election day. They'll still defile the pavement, and stir up women's wrath; they'll never know what a shave meant, and never took a bath; they'll all same endeavor, these skates with thirsty throats, and they'll abide forever, because they have their votes.

Success in Selling.

[The Mixer:] Right after you close one sale, after you have done something, is the time to make the second and third sales—make a record.

This is the time when your face is on straight. Your features, your actions, your whole soul is now thrown into the 'idea of selling; and you sell.

Success in selling is largely a mental condition. Much depends on whether you control the customer or the customer controls you.

Selling is confidence, courage, enthusiasm. Get the customer before the customer gets you—not by brag, bombast, blow, but by selling facts that appeal to the customer's self-interest.

MY VOTARY.

BY CLARRISA.

I am of the misguided ones who didn't desire the privilege of the vote. When it was forced upon me, I took up the white woman's added burden. As I then supposed. Now I know better.

Not being up in politics, I had to consult Will or Ned or Oscar as to the best use to which I could put my newly-acquired powers. They surely enjoyed telling me. Now I like Ned and Oscar and Will to consult me about neckties and hats and summer suits. Herein I see the advantage of female suffrage. For since I have been granted the power to add to or subtract from the plurality of Will or Oscar's favorite candidate, so they have become more willing to take my advice on matters of dress and art. And art, goodness knows! men need a lot of training along these lines.

Herein lies a great virtue, not before considered in the campaign for female suffrage. It makes tasteless men listen to a tasteful woman on matters of taste. It has become a big schoolmistress for training the masculine.

As a matter of curiosity I have paid attention to the figures in the late elections in Illinois and California, to see the effect of the women's vote in regenerating society. I cannot see so far much proof of this prophesied regeneration.

The question of "wet" or "dry" is one in which women have a more vital interest than men. Strangely, or perhaps when you give it more thought, naturally in cities where the masculine majority was wet, the feminine majority was wet too, and where the masculine majority was dry, the feminine majority was dry also.

If the figures as reported are correct there is not a single instance where men have voted one way and women the other. Now, Mrs. Pankhurst et al., bring on your sex antagonism propaganda, and we sensible women in California can laugh you up to scorn!

Blessed be this State for giving women the vote. Because it proves how strong is the bond of sympathy between the man and the woman. I don't know of any other whether dry women awayed dry men or wet women turned the feminine vote wet; I only know that men and women voted in pairs as they have lived and loved in pairs since the days of Adam and Eve; and that sex antagonism is a militant myth.

"ONLY A HUNK."

By Arthur Pound.

"ONLY A HUNK," someone said as the lifeless body of an Italian laborer was lifted out of the manhole.

"ONLY A HUNK." Only a man, you might say. Man enough to leave his home in Italy and set face westward; man enough to pass the test at the Immigration Station; man enough to brave the careless cruelty of a strange people; man enough to earn his bread by the sweat of his brow at grueling and dangerous tasks; man enough to die for us that our sewers may be dug.

"ONLY A HUNK." Yet you may be sure that somewhere tears will be shed over his clay as they will be shed for you when you go hence, perhaps with no more warning than was given this poor immigrant as, all trusting, he put his hand to the spade.

Pray, while the breath of life is in you, that your taking-off may fall among your own people, and that on the streets of a faraway city your falling senses may not hear the blighting words—"ONLY A HUNK."

Brawn in Higher Demand Than Brain.

[La DeG. Moss, in the Engineering Magazine for February:] Our national fault is to make a good average product, and mountains of it. That means drive, night and day, a highly-educated German engineer said to me, after a tour through some of our plants, "I judge that the first requirement of a superintendent is that he can lick any man in the shop!" Literally true in many cases in the iron and steel industry, and on railways. Higher officials choose men who had the physique and stamina to stand the incessant strain and who did not recognize defeat. Some of the best were small, wiry men. Young men were deliberately sent out to accomplish impossible tasks, and carefully watched and judged. This method was not esteemed so highly as encounters with the gloves, friendly but decisive. Years after, I was astonished to learn that two promotions followed such encounters, which were engineered by the chief engineer in one case, by the first vice-president in the other, of two prominent railway companies. Perhaps more brains and less brawn would have produced better results. Looking backward I can name presidents, managers, vice-presidents and engineers of high standing who were advanced at different times because they excelled in that respect. They are all living, active and prominent; whereas I could name an equal number in the same walks of life who have died prematurely because they were unable to endure the incessant drain on vitality.

Window Secrets.

[Owl Hoots:] Orange color can be seen farther than any other color. Yellow and certain kinds of red are "warm" colors. Blue and certain greens are "cold" colors, and two certain reds are also "cold" colors.

Green is complementary of red. Orange is complementary of blue. Yellow is complementary of violet.

A heavy plank is too strong—too rich—for the ordinary window display.

A rich color goes well with an expensive material.

Dust rags, etc., should not be left on a counter or in sight.

When glass is used in a window, have the edges ground.

A certain amount of daintiness is a good thing.

CAR TURNS CLEAR OVER.

Four Injured Because Inexperienced Driver Cannot Handle Machine Which Skids.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
SANTA ANA, April 17.—In an attempt to make a turn on Del Norte, a mile west of the Southern California Sugar Company factory, this afternoon, an Oakland auto driven by E. T. Mateer, an inexperienced driver, skidded off the road, turned completely over with four passengers and came to a stop with its rear wheels in a drainage ditch, its front wheels on a culvert.

Mateer has three or four feet broken, but he is not seriously injured. Mrs. Mateer probably received the worst injuries. An X-ray examination is to determine whether or not her hip is broken. "Puss," a small dog, was also injured. The car is badly damaged. The driver, E. T. Mateer, is proprietor of a drug store here and is one of the clerks. The automobile belongs to John Bruza, father of Plummer. It is badly damaged. The party was on the way to Newport. The business trip and Bruza allowed Mateer, who had driven a machine for a few times, to take the other. The car was taken to the Southern California Sugar Company factory, where it was moved until an ambulance arrived.

They saw thousands of people visiting a high school in actual session. Classes were held between 8 and 9 o'clock just as they are in the day time in all the classrooms.

In addition there were exhibits of all the work done in the school in various departments and a literary program, including short plays, addresses by Supt. Alexander Sheriffs and Charles M. Osenbaugh, the principal. Students belonging to Mass. and Scroll presented a tabloid version of "As You Like It." Club members presented a short cantata and choruses of grammar school boys sang. (BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SAN JOSE, April 17.—Anna B. Rogers, proprietress of a multiphase office in the First National Bank building, San Francisco, was granted $25.00 a month alimony, $150 attorney's fees and $15 costs by Superior Judge J. R. Welsh today. Mrs. Rogers alleged that her husband, W. H. Rogers, who she is suing for divorce, has possession of about $100,000 property, including 300 acres of land near Corrales worth $10,000.

Rogers is a candidate for Mayor of San Jose and a leading Democrat in State politics. He headed the California Delegation to Baltimore and was the first influential bourgeois to back Champ Clark in the State. Senatorial allies are expected in the divorce suit.

M'KEE RANKIN DIES.

Veteran Character Actor of the Old School Passes Away at a Hotel in San Francisco.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—McKee Rankin, the veteran character actor, who was identified for years with Nance O'Neill in Shakespearean productions, died here today.

Following a brief recent engagement, Rankin suffered an attack of illness, attributed to age and a complication of infirmities which prevented him from continuing his work on the stage. He had been confined to his rooms for several weeks.

In the prime of his theatrical career, McKee Rankin was known to the theatergoers in all the English-speaking countries of the world. He was the old-world, bold, versatile, Rankin probably made a large fortune, but his big earnings were lost in one theatrical venture or another.

He began his stage career in the Civil War period and continued it actively for fifty years.

He was born at Sandwich, Ont., in 1841, the son of a member of Parliament. While at Upper Canada College he had a disagreement with his father over his association with the dramatic society there and ran away to New York with an actor. His father found him and made him return to accept a government clerkship. He soon left this and at 21 he was leading man for Mrs. John Drew. All of his three daughters married into branches of the Drew family.

"I played in Denver, Colo., when there was only one brick house in the town," Rankin once related. "And I was the first American ever to take a theatrical company across the ocean. I preceded Daly and all of the others."

Rankin bought the "Danter" from Joaquin Miller and made a tremendous hit in it at Alexander McClellan of the Broadway Theater, New York, in 1877. For more than a decade he was famous in this part and later distinguished himself in a play written by his brother, the late George Rankin, called "The Canuck," and in a play written by himself, "True to Life."

Other of his productions were "A Kentucky Colonel," "The Golden Giant," "A Bachelor's Baby," and "Captain Impudence."

In 1898 he became manager for Nance O'Neill. Together, Rankin and Miss O'Neill toured all of the English-speaking world in Shakespearean and other productions.

"BREAD KING" IN CALIFORNIA.

And His Label Will Be on All the Loaves.

Oescher Corporation Gets Incorporation Papers.

Oakland Men Combine for Bay Cities' Business.

SACRAMENTO, April 17.—The entry into the California field of Max Oescher, the "New York bread king," is signalled with the issuance today by Secretary of State Frank Jordan of articles of incorporation of the Supreme Baking Company, $1,000,000 concern organized in Los Angeles.

The Supreme Baking Company is incorporated to take over three of the largest baking companies in Southern California—the Bradford Baking Company, the Bradford Baking Company, both of Los Angeles, and the Southern California Baking Company, San Diego. Oescher is to receive $1,000,000 in common and preferred stock of the company and $100,000 in 6 percent bonds and will be in position to manipulate the activities of the holding company and dictate the baking business of Southern California. A bond issue of $500,000 to swing the deal has been authorized by the directors of the Supreme Baking Company.

PROMPT OPPOSITION.

Oescher's campaign to control the baking output of California is meeting opposition. Simultaneously today articles of the Supreme Baking Company, Secretary of State Frank Jordan issued incorporation papers to the Pacific Baking Company of Los Angeles, a $500,000 corporation, headed by William E. Long, of Chicago. Long has subscribed for $250,000 in stock and together with his Los Angeles associates, will give battle to the "bread trust" king in the South.

Associated with the Chicago man are Frank Pierce, Hugo R. Krohn, G. Burkett Logan and Benjamin M. Stunbury, all of Los Angeles.

Representatives of the Pacific Company in Sacramento today said the Oescher interests would not be permitted to obtain a "corner" on the bread industry of the South without keen competition.

IN NORTHERN CALIFORNIA.

The New York "bread king" is again to meet opposition should he plan an invasion of San Francisco and Oakland. Articles of incorporation already filed with Secretary Jordan today by the Ray Cities Baking Company with an authorized stock issue of $500,000, Oakland capitalists are behind the company, which plans to build a big bakery on the east side of the bay and supply residents of Alameda and San Francisco counties with its product.

Interested in this venture are Charles Loesch, Edward McDevitt, John B. Davis and Carlton H. Wall.

BOYNTON OUT OF RACE.

State Senator Withdraws as Candidate for Republican Nomination to National Upper House.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—State Senator Albert B. Boynton, for two sessions floor leader in the upper house, and the author of many major bills which became laws, withdrew tonight from the race for the Republican nomination for United States Senator.

Announcement of his candidacy was made only last Friday in Los Angeles. Purely private reasons, Senator Boynton said, led to his withdrawal. His statement follows: "After a careful study of political conditions in California, which study extended over a period of several weeks, I am firmly convinced that the rank and file of the Republican party in this State is strongly pro-Republican. Believing the true progress for the State and nation must come through the medium of the Republican party, I have never faltered in my endeavor to maintain its integrity, and have continually urged my Republican friends to remain loyal to its principles."

"It was with this feeling that I had announced a few days ago that I would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator. I had planned on severing my numerous business connections immediately devoting my entire time to the campaign and covering, if possible, every portion of the State."

"Since making that announcement I have received many gratifying and unexpected expressions of support and I am satisfied that the chances for success were excellent. During the last 24 hours, however, personal matters of business nature which could not have been foreseen a week ago and which are imperative, have arisen, and I find it impossible to make an active campaign."

"Under the circumstances I am reluctantly compelled to forego my personal ambition, and withdraw my name as a candidate."

(Signed) "A. B. BOYNTON."

To this statement the Senator said there was nothing to add.

IOWA BLUE SKY LAW.

Arguments Begun to Show the Statute Invalid for Interfering With Interstate Commerce.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE.)
KEOKUK (Iowa) April 17.—Arguments were begun in the Federal Court today on the question of the constitutionality of the Iowa blue sky law which places the control and supervision of investment companies in the hands of the Secretary of State and Attorney-General.

It was argued by the complainants that the statute is invalid because it interferes with interstate commerce; because it indicates severe and unusual penalties; is in conflict with fundamental rights; places legislative authority in the hands of the Secretary of State; that it is in conflict with provisions of the Federal and State constitutions, and because the act is not the same as passed by the Thirty-first Iowa General Assembly.

DIAMOND GARTERS POPULAR.

The Tango Craze Has Brought Them Back to View Again in Fashion's London Circles.

(Special Correspondence of The Times.)
LONDON, Dec. 50.—In London the tango is responsible for all kinds of curious extravagances, not the least of which is the remarkable order which has just been given on behalf of a lady well known in high society to a London diamond setter.

Garters, with anklets set with the same brilliant, and owing to their very great value, as well as to the difficulty of setting the jewels as required, it has been found necessary to provide each of the precious stones with special spring clasps, whereby they will be attached securely to the fair wearer. The diamond setter, who is very well known in his trade, is already engaged on the work.

Tango figures are also a feature of the newest fashions seen in London. They approach so closely to the cylindrical in shape as to be almost devoid of curves, especially viewed in profile, and such waist as is permitted to remain is veep-shaped and placed high up under the armpits. The general appearance of shapelessness, padding is introduced where the waist is said to be partly attributable to the popularity of the wide crushed giraffe effect now so common.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Councilmen in caucus yesterday decided upon a 40-cent rate for natural gas. If a rate must be fixed on the mixed gas it will be 55 cents. Formal action by the Council in public session has been postponed until Monday.

The Harbor Commission yesterday adopted a resolution providing for immediate work on a temporary roadway from Fourteenth street to the municipal dock No. 1 on the outer harbor. This is preliminary to the work of raising Timms Point.

Alhambra city officials have applied to the Board of Public Works for information as to whether that city may join Los Angeles in the use of a new outfall sewer and help pay for its construction.

City Treasurer Hance won the first round yesterday in the suit brought by ninety property owners objecting to paying assessment bonds for the construction of the Hill-street tunnel on the ground that the proceedings are illegal, in Judge Clark's court yesterday, the court denying the motion to show cause and adjourn the trial.

A disinherited daughter triumphed over a mother in her contest to break the will of John Newton Stone, a Compton rancher, when a jury in Judge Houser's court found yesterday that Stone had been influenced in making the will by Mrs. Stone, who will appeal from the jury's judgment.

At the City Hall.

NATURAL GAS FORTY CENTS.

RATE DECIDED UPON BY THE COUNCIL CAUCUS.

Formal Action in Public Session Is Deferred Until Monday—Charge for Mixture May Be Placed at Fifty-five Cents Per Thousand Cubic Feet.

A rate of 40 cents per 1000 cubic feet for natural gas will be adopted by the City Council, to take the place of the 52-cent rate made by the Board of Public Utilities. If a rate is fixed for the mixed gas, overriding the rate of 40 cents per 1000 cubic feet made by the Board of Public Utilities, such rate will be 55 cents.

The members of the Council went into caucus after the regular session yesterday for the purpose of discussing the Gabor Hegyi-Elysian Park and controversy. Incidentally, after this subject was settled, the gas question was brought up, and the members were surprised to find that there was a spirit of compromise present making it appear possible to reach an agreement. After a general discussion the 40-cent rate was agreed upon, those holding out for a 50-cent or 55-cent rate finally agreeing to make the action unanimous for the 40-cent rate.

At the adjourned session of the Council yesterday afternoon the subject was raised as to whether it will be possible to fix only the natural-gas rate and none for the mixed gas, and if so whether the rate allowed fixed by the Board of Public Utilities for mixed gas will stand, or whether it will be computed on the basis of the actual amount of natural gas used in the mixture and the application of the 40-cent rate to such portion. The action was deferred until Monday morning at 10 o'clock and the City Attorney was asked for advice on the points raised.

IMMEDIATE WORK ON HARBOR ROADWAY.

The Harbor Commission yesterday adopted a resolution instructing the engineers to immediately organize a staff for force account work on the construction of a roadway southwest from Fourteenth street, San Pedro, to the face of the bluff, thence on a ramp to municipal dock No. 1 in the outer harbor.

The engineers are instructed to use all possible diligence to carry through this piece of construction. It will be used as a temporary connection between the municipal wharves until Timms Point is raised and the permanent roadways are constructed. This is a preliminary to the work of raising Timms Point.

IT'S A PROBLEM.

ALHAMBRA SEWER QUESTION. Alhambra has a serious sewer problem. A movement has been on foot to handle the sewage of Pasadena, South Pasadena and Alhambra in one system, with its discharge at the Pasadena sewer farm. Recently Alhambra refused to vote the bonds required for extensions of the sewer outfall. Now Alhambra city officials have asked the Board of Public Works of Los Angeles for information as to whether it is possible for Los Angeles to project a trunk-line sewer from present or contemplated sewer systems to the north-east corner of Alhambra, and if so what would be the approximate cost of such a line and the proportion to be borne by Alhambra.

MORE PARK LAND.

HEGYI CONTROVERSY SETTLED. In caucus yesterday the City Council decided to end the controversy with Gabor Hegyi regarding roadways and land at Elysian Park by purchasing a three-acre tract on a point surrounded by scenic drive, and to pay therefor $4490. For this concession in price the Council in return will take action of Elysian street as is desired by Hegyi. As the opening of a new roadway would cost the city from $4000 to $5000, members of the Council believe the purchase of the land is the best solution possible of the difficulties that have been cause of much verbal fireworks for the past few months.

Municipal Notes.

The City Council decided yesterday to create a conduit district on Sunset boulevard from Main to Marion streets and to hasten the necessary legislation, so the conduits may be placed in the street before the paving is laid.

The North-East-West Commercial and Improvement Association's request that the land to be condemned on West First street between Broadway and Hill street, for the tunnel plans, be taken from the south side of the street, was before the Council yesterday and caused considerable discussion. The Public Works Committee's report stated that, after careful investigation, it is decided that the less-expensive plan will be to take the land from the north side of the street. It was decided, however, to hold the subject open for one week so that further investigations might be made by some of the Councilmen. The interlocutory judgment has been entered by the Superior Court for condemnation of lands necessary for the opening of Seventy-fifth street from Moneta avenue to Figueroa street. The City Council has instructed the City Engineer to prepare and present the assessment map. John E. Lathrop, who is in charge of the city-planning exhibit now being shown in this city, addressed the City Council yesterday on the need of immediate work in Los Angeles looking toward the adoption of a comprehensive plan for city building. The aqueduct, a Commission has applied to the City Council for the usual loan of $4000 in order to keep the month's force intact for another month. These loans are to be repaid to the city by the first funds that are available in the aqueduct power bureau.

The City Attorney expects to have work completed by Monday on the final draft for the proposed constitutional amendment providing for city and county consolidation. It is expected that it will be submitted to the Council for its consideration Monday.

At the Courtroom.

DAUGHTER WINS AGAINST MOTHER.

BITTERNESS MARKS CONTEST TO BREAK RANCHER'S WILL.

Red Face of Disinherited Child Barely Lightens When Jury Upholds Her Contestation Against Father—Loser Will Appeal from Judgment.

The disinherited daughter triumphed yesterday over the mother in the contest to break the will of John Newton Stone, a Compton rancher. The jury which tried the suit in Judge Houser's court agreed with the daughter, Mrs. Leo Stone Green, that her father had been influenced in making his will by her mother, Mrs. Fannie E. Stone.

The triumph was not without its bitterness. For mother and daughter are estranged. Biting (things were said during the trial; little incidents recalled that rankled, the chief of which was Leo's alleged disobedience during girlhood and her marriage to William Green, a horse trainer, against the wishes of her parents. Stone left an estate of $90,000, which he bequeathed to his wife, with the exception of $50. Mrs. Green, 11000 to the Plagash Home and $500 to a Mexican woman on friendly terms with the Stones. Mrs. Stone testified during the trial that she did not expect her husband to leave Leo much "because of the way she had acted."

Mrs. Green set up that her father would have provided amply for her but for the influence brought to bear upon him by her mother. Mrs. Stone declared she had no hand in the making of the will and did not know what was in it until Stone told her. The evidence did not show that she objected to the will which had been given her.

Mrs. Green will probably apply for letters of administration and ask for the distribution of the estate. Mrs. Stone is entitled to one-third of the estate and the remainder will go to Mrs. Green and her daughter, Margaret.

Mrs. Stone's appeal from the judgment of the jury.

Mrs. Green's sad face barely lightened when the jury filed in for deliberation of more than an hour. She simply remarked that she was glad she was won.

INJUNCTION REFUSED.

TUNNEL OPONENTS LOSE.

The first round in the fight to decide whether the proceedings involving the construction of the Hill-street tunnel, between First and Temple streets, was won by City Treasurer Hance, defendant in the suit brought by Ellen Thompson and ninety other property owners against whom assessment bonds were levied.

The property owners asked for an order to show cause and a preliminary injunction restraining Hance from advertising and selling their property. The motions were argued before Judge Clark, sitting in Department Six, and submitted yesterday.

Yesterday the court denied the motions, basing the denial upon the theory that the plaintiffs will have ample opportunity to present the case on its merits and before any final judgment is in the case could in any manner violate their rights.

Assuming that the proceedings be invalid, they cannot in any manner be prejudicial or property injured by the court withholding extraordinary relief by injunction.

The suit for injunction was to head off the sale of several pieces of property set for today. The sale will now take place on the basis of the assessment bonds. E. R. Young opposed Delphin M. Delmas in the hearing before Judge Clark. Young represented City Treasurer Hance and the bondholders.

TEST SALOON LAW.

SIXTH-STREET WAR AIDED.

The fight to take away the license of John J. Althouse, who conducts a saloon on Sixth street between Spring and Main streets, waged by the Merchants' Fireproof Building Company and the Main-street company, was aided in Judge Taft's court yesterday and submitted.

The two concerns asked for a peremptory writ of mandate to compel the Police Commission to declare sufficient a petition seeking to close Sixth street between the points named to the liquor traffic. The petitioners for the writ, represented by Randall & Bartlett, allege the petition before the Police Commission was ignored, although it contained more than the required 50 per cent. of the property owners in the block affected.

Assistant City Attorney Burnell opposed the writ on the ground that the commission had found one of the signers of the petition disqualified and the required 50 per cent. therefore lacking.

The contest is to test the ordinance with reference to the section relating to interest direct or indirect which may be shown in the petitioners opposing a license. It is claimed that the San Dimas Lemon Association tending to show that the king had put the finishing touches on pruning done in mistake by an agent made by some of the Councilmen. The interlocutory judgment has been entered by the Superior Court for condemnation of lands necessary for the opening of Seventy-fifth street from Moneta avenue to Figueroa street. The City Council has instructed the City Engineer to prepare and present the assessment map. John E. Lathrop, who is in charge of the city-planning exhibit now being shown in this city, addressed the City Council yesterday on the need of immediate work in Los Angeles looking toward the adoption of a comprehensive plan for city building. The aqueduct, a Commission has applied to the City Council for the usual loan of $4000 in order to keep the month's force intact for another month. These loans are to be repaid to the city by the first funds that are available in the aqueduct power bureau.

PROFESSORIAL FINANCE. DODGING BLUE-SKY LAW. In telling the story of the floating of the International Securities Company, capitalized at $10,000,000, E. J. Fleming, suing through an assignee for a professional fee of $1500, dealt in figures of astounding value in the hearing of the case before Judge Finlayson yesterday.

Incidentally, the blue-sky law was responsible for Fleming's coming into contact with I. J. McGee, organizer and former president of the company. He said that after the law was passed, McGee came to him and for a fee of $1500 he undertook to advise McGee how to make a good advance in the courts.

McGee resigned the presidency and was succeeded by Newton J. Skinner. McGee then made a contract with Fleming, testified, to sell stock on a 35 per cent. basis. He sold $130,000 worth and then entered into a contract on a 50 per cent. basis.

McGee paid Fleming $100 for his services so that if I come into court again, I will have evidence." When this letter was shown Judge Wood remarked that Mrs. Collins had guessed right. He denied both a decree and alimony, and ordered Bailiff Woods to accompany Collins to his home as a bodyguard so that he could get his clothing and bric-a-brac.

Fleming's statement Mrs. Collins was defiant. Venturing into her presence alone was an expedition he feared. He wanted the tools because he could not get them from them. "We will get 'em all right," big Bailiff Woods told him.

Collins was married at Jacksonville, Fla., September 25, 1909. Mrs. Collins, in her suit, alleges cruelty. She claims that after she had been charged at a recent trial, and Collins was brought into court yesterday to give his version.

WIFE TRAPPED. DIVORCE GOES TO HUSBAND. Mrs. Susie E. Turner, a cabaret singer, made the mistake of being trapped after she had filed for divorce from Clyde B. Turner, which gave the latter an opportunity to file a cross-complaint coupling her name with that of Percy Arthur. Mrs. Turner was in no better position for Arthur last December was given by Detective S. L. Browne and Miss Ella Hilditch, an operative. The latter shadowed Mrs. Collins to the Wade apartments on South Grand avenue, rented a room across the hall from her apartment and told the court what she saw.

Turner, an employee of the Home Telephone Company, was arrested in Orange, November 24, 1908. The separation occurred April 4, 1913.

HUSBAND TOO RETICENT. WON'T TALK; LOSER DIVORCE. "What was the trouble between you and your wife?" Judge Monroe asked L. Brady, husband of Ethel Leona Brady, one of the "strip piker" girls, in Brady's suit for divorce yesterday.

Brady gave no explanation; in fact, he kept the reason why looked up in his breast. "Well," commented the court, "if the witness refuses to answer, I will have to continue the case."

"He did me in my office last night why she left him," Attorney Coberly remarked. The court desired the information so that it could be introduced by his lawyer, and the case went off the calendar.

The suit for divorce was in the courtroom. Brady knew it, and whether his silence was on account of this is one of the secrets of the divorce.

COURT PARAGRAPHS. PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF. COURT COUSIN UNDER-STAND. Judge Monroe could not understand why Mrs. Mary A. Wye could leave Massachusetts and come to California without first going to see her babies who are with Wye. He stated this to Mrs. Wye, who admitted that although she was in the same county of Massachusetts as her husband, from whom she was separated, she came to this State several years ago, and brought suit for desertion. The decree was denied.

USEFUL IMPRISONMENT. J. A. Connelly was added to the chain-gang by Judge Monroe yesterday, and for two years the money he earns will be paid over for the support of his wife. By going to the County Jail Connelly escapes serving time in the penitentiary for burglary. Notwithstanding his faults, Mrs. Connelly announced her intention of living with him when his term is up.

CONDEMNATION SUIT. The suit of the city against the Board of Education to condemn property belonging to the board at Wilmington came before Judge Smith yesterday. The city seeks a strip 7 feet by 400 feet on Canal avenue seventh street. The board asks $6000 for the property and the city thinks its value is $3000.

VICTORIOUS, ANYWAY. H. C. Broom has defended himself in the divorce court on five separate occasions and his wife has lost each time. He thinks this may be the reason she had him arrested on a charge of failing to pay for a minor child. However he won here, also,
